Outskirts Press, United States, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 201 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Changing the course of one s life doesn t usually result in danger, mystery, and intrigue. Twenty-eight-year-old Linda Davenport certainly didn t anticipate such an outcome when she decided to leave her stable and predictable life as a teacher to travel cross country for new beginnings, but unexpected events dictated otherwise. Flying from her hometown of Detroit to Los Angeles, she has a chance encounter with Carol Alder, a lovely woman and probation officer by profession. Their initial meeting promises to blossom into a close friendship. Settling in at the beautiful home of Edith Carter, who rents Linda a room more for companionship than income, she manages to spend a day with Carol before starting her new job as copy editor at a publishing company. In a few short days Linda s world is turned upside down when her job fails to materialize due to a sudden reorganization, and Carol is killed in an auto accident under mysterious circumstances. Jobless but determined to remain in California, Linda is thrown into further turmoil when Carol s brother Gregory is convinced her death was no accident and believes someone in the probation/court system was responsible. Only he can t fathom why. Linda s job hunting eventually takes her into the probation system where she begins to uncover disturbing information that leads her to agree with Gregory. Unable to trust anyone, Linda never reveals to her co-workers that she knew Carol, and as she learns more about the system through her initial training and subsequent assignment as an investigator, she puts together more pieces of the puzzle. Along the way she reconnects with David Wyndham, a former college love who...
