Excerpt: . . . 11 piece of that portfolio has to do with conservation and efficiency, and so, I am pleased that he could come here today and participate as a witness on this panel. I will yield back, Mr. Chairman. Chairman L. Thank you, Mr. Matheson. The gentlelady AMPSON from Arizona, Ms. Giffords. IFFORDS Ms. G. Thank you. I am pleased to introduce a constituent of mine who is the Director of the Water-Conservation Alliance of Southern Arizona, also known as Water Casa. She is also a principal research specialist with the University of Arizonas college of architecture and landscape architecture. She is the author of numerous water-use efficiency publications, and has worked internationally on water-conservation issues, ranging from the Middle East to Central America. I have had a chance to work with Ms. Little in my early days in the Arizona State legislature, where we collaborated on legislation that created the incentives for homebuilders to initiate greywater plumbing systems in new-home construction. As a leader in our community, particularly coming from the Sonorian Desert where we dont have a lot of water, Ms. Little has been instrumental in bringing diverse stakeholders together to address the future of water in our desert home. It is my pleasure that she has come all of the way from Southern Arizona to be with us today. My staff has also informed me that the students of the University of Arizona are now watching the video teleconference to your testimony. Here is a shout out to all of the students at the University of Arizona for participating via the technology of the...
