It is in these lives, that we are exposed to the joys and wonders of the world through the subjective interpretation of our own experiences. Pivotal decisions are made everyday which continually dictate the opportunities available to us. Yet one question remains unclear, who makes these decisions Naturally, many people believe that these decisions are our own to make. This belief, referred to as free will, implies that we have a conscious choice between one option and numerous alternatives. The ability to make a decision based on these circumstances implies that the mind is free. Alternatively, the less popular view of determinism suggests that we have no free will; decisions are made based on an antecedent casual chain of events. In other words, before choices...
