Censor, arrainging, with true Juvenalian severity, the conduct of a certain club, which, in the words of my correspondent, continues, in defiance of decency and good manners, to insult the public jn large characters, in the front of every newspaper in town. This, he adds, moves my indignation the more, when I consider that several of its principal members are arrived at a period of life which should teach decorum, at least, if it does not extinguish vice. In answer to this angry correspondent, I will tell him the following story: Some years ago, I happened to be in York at-the time of the assizes. Dining one day in a tavern with some gentlemen of that city and its neighbourhood, we were violently disturbed by the noise of somebody below, who hooted and halloed, smacked his whip, and made his servants sound their French horns; in short, rehearsed, during the whole time of our dinner, all the glorious tumult of the chase. Some of the company, after several ineffectual messages by the waiter, began to be angry, and to think of a very serious remonstrance with the sportsman below. But an elderly person, who sat opposite to me, pacified their resentment: I know the gentleman who disturbs you, said he; his head-piece was never one of the best; but now, poor man! I believe we must let him alone--Since he is past running down the fox in the field, he must een be allowed to hunt..
